Song of the Day

MY ROTARY DAY

(Adapted from "Beautiful Sunday")

Thursday morning, I'm up and about
I think I'll take a walk in the park
Hey, hey, hey, it's a wonderful day

I've got someone waiting for me
When I see him I know that he'll say
Hey, hey, hey, it's our Rotary day

Hi, hi, hi, wonderful Thursday
This is my, my, my, Rotary day
When you say, say, say, say that you'll meet me
Oh, hey, hey, hey it's our Rotary day

Birds are singing, you by my side
Let's take a car and go for a ride
Hey, hey, hey, it's our Rotary day
We'll drive on and follow the sun
Makin' Thursday go on and on
Hey, hey, hey, it's our Rotary day

Hi, hi, hi, wonderful Thursday
This is my, my, my, Rotary day
When you say, say, say, say that you'll meet me
Oh, hey, hey, hey it's our Rotary day

Hi, hi, hi, wonderful Thursday
This is my, my, my, Rotary day
When you say, say, say, say that you'll meet me
Oh, hey, hey, hey it's our Rotary day

(Lyric adaptation by PP Peter Javier)

From the President

Pres. RJ Ermita

Good afternoon fellow Rotarians!

Our incoming president and his board are now very busy preparing for the next Rotary year. Last week we had the online District Training Assembly (DISTAS) which prepares all the future directors of the club in running the different committees necessary in running the club. We are excited to see new leaders emerge, assuring a healthy future of the club.

Today we have a stalwart of Philippine business and corporate governance as our guest speaker. Cora Dela Paz-Bernardo, will be sharing her life journey starting from her student life as one of the most illustrious alumnae of Rizal High School. Her life experience and accomplishments will be a good inspiration to our current Rizal High School scholars.

May I remind all our members for our target to reach 100 members as part of our 50th anniversary celebration this Rotary year. We are almost there!

With everyone's effort we can surely achieve our target.

Thank you very much. On our 50th year, we remain...

Yours in Rotary,

RJ H. Ermita

Rotary Notes

PP Benny P. De Guzman

The end of Ramadan gave us a break,.Any holiday is a good break from the pandemic boredom we are all experiencing. We had a very nice defense of classification at the last meeting by two very nice newcomers to our club. The two of different corporate cultures were both enriching to balance the nice blend we have as a club.

From software to even car racing, Rtn Roehl excelled in all his roles even reaching the top of the Globe, pun intended. And Rtn Roy excelling in anything you would want to eat so long as he earns on the side.

As Tinig welcomes the two, I heard two PPs talking about them. The first one said, “bright boys that will bring our average age lower”. And the other added right away, “even our average IQ is raised”. Of course, they are using their own IQs as basis. Well said.

Speaking of twos. There are two lawyers of our club who both came from UP and were supporters of PRRD before the elections. If they are still supportive of him, being lawyers they can defend their preference by looking for good excuses.

Now, speaking of twos further, an FEU grad who retired as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and another who just signed as Jose Bartolome, a lawyer who did not want to have Atty. put before his name due to the same issue the retired CJ cited. This was on the 8-6 votes that ousted the first female chief justice with the decision promulgated the same day it was made with no provision for the accused to file for a motion for reconsideration due to the non-submission of her statement of assets & liabilities and net worth. Of the 8 who voted for her ouster, six were granted choice positions upon retirement and two became chief justices. The one who would not want to be called Atty. with more than 30 years of law practice claimed there was a constitutional violation.

Again another two, and this time from a very good law school. One is already dead and the other, the most distinguished alumnus of the school. The dead Bedan was our PP Bobbit Sanchez who must be restless in his grave. The living one claims the arbitral ruling favoring our country's ownership of the West Philippine Sea is just a scrap of useless paper that should be thrown away. Howie Calleja, a past president of our daughter club. RC Valle Verde and now a member of RC Makati claims that paper is very important. Now, the alumni association of the school would like their most distinguished alumnus to recall his statement on the arbitral ruling.

And the last of the twos. Two fires in two hospitals in less than a month apart. The first at Pasig City General Hospital has for its director a PP of our daughter club, RC Pasig East. The damage is not much though. A PP of RC Pasig East and son of our 13th president, the late Tom Portillo and his junior, texted for assistance to UP PGH. (Why UP before PGH? It is because the hospital is integrated to the College of Medicine of UP by charter.) They had a fire too and in the pediatrics department all 35 babies some in oxygen were safely evacuated with no major effects on their health. Why the donation? Even for the needed vaccines either too small volumes in deliveries or there are delays.

Now, there are two requests of our club president. To hit 100 members and to reach the 100% Sustaining Member to The Rotary Foundation. The latter is a done deal but the membership? Remember, minus one as Rtn Louie Orosa went away. Kaya ba with 4 meetings before induction? Kaya! Kakayanin!

NONPROFITS MAKE GAINS IN MEASURING THEIR IMPACT

by Hank Sartin

In December, for the 13th year in a row, The Rotary Foundation received a four-star rating — the highest possible — from Charity Navigator, an independent evaluator of charities in the United States. Charity Navigator determines its ratings by examining how nonprofits use their funds, how sustainable their programs are, and how well they follow industry standards of transparency and accountability.

In a Matter of Measurement

In recent years, many nonprofits — including Rotary — have begun to increase their focus on measuring the impact of their work, and Charity Navigator has responded to that shift. In 2020, it acquired ImpactMatters, a ratings organization dedicated to assessing the impact of nonprofits. Based on the existing ratings of ImpactMatters, Charity Navigator will create impact ratings for thousands of charities.

In an effort to measure the impact of Foundation grants and other Rotary projects, Rotary is now also emphasizing the importance of incorporating monitoring and evaluation into the projects that Rotary clubs and districts carry out in their own communities and around the world. But measuring impact can be challenging, because there is no one-size-fits-all methodology. For some projects, large-scale surveys are useful. For others, impact might be assessed using economic indicators.

Walking the Avenues

PP Jun C. Zafra

“What we are asking is this: Is this a good use of resources?” explains Elijah Goldberg, vice president of impact ratings at Charity Navigator. “Nonprofits are trying to solve a problem. The question is, is this particular type of activity efficient when you solve that problem?”

The intensified focus on measuring impact is an attempt to apply the principles of academic research to the work of charitable organizations. “In the past 15 years, we have seen a huge expansion of the number of careful, rigorous evaluations being done in academia on impact,” says Dean Karlan, co-founder of ImpactMatters and co-director of the Global Poverty Research Lab at Northwestern University. “These days it is much more practical to do fieldwork collecting data; the internet has radically lowered the cost of doing that. And a lot of the exciting evaluations now come from the nonprofit sector.”

More Robust Planning for Smaller Projects

Assessing impact through carefully constructed surveys and statistical analysis makes sense for large-scale initiatives, but it is often impractical for smaller projects. The good news for clubs is that there are ways to use existing research to demonstrate that a planned project is in line with proven methods for solving a given problem, and then to use those results to guide your program’s impact measurement.

“In the formative stages of project planning, you can get surprisingly good information using an internet search,” says Randall Blair, who, as an associate director at Mathematica, a data-focused policy research firm, helps foundations and federal agencies figure out the best types of programs to invest in. “You just have to pick keywords. You can search for the big concept,

Walking the Avenues

like ‘educational approaches to adolescent sexual and reproductive health.’ To make the search more effective, add words like ‘recommendations for policymakers.’” It’s important to filter the results you find, he notes, but there is a great deal of valuable data at your fingertips. Research in the early phases can pay off when it is time to assess impact, because you will have more information on benchmarks for your type of project.

And even though he works in a statistics-driven field, Blair emphasizes that for smaller projects, simple surveys and check-in interviews are a valid tool for measuring impact. “Money can be well spent asking basic questions. How are things going? Are we delivering what we said we would deliver? How do folks feel about it? Would they recommend we make any improvements? Those types of questions can really go a long way.”

For Rotary, the new emphasis on measuring impact must be part of what we do. “For many years, The Rotary Foundation has attained the highest rating from Charity Navigator. But the gold standard of social impact is changing,” notes John Hewko, general secretary of Rotary International. “The benchmarks of our progress are not just financial health, accountability, and transparency. They are also our ability to measure what we do and prove that our efforts translate into concrete impact, based on clear evidence. To increase our impact and get the credit that we deserve for our hard work, we have to be more data-driven. By documenting the metrics of our good works, we get a clear picture of results. We learn how to replicate and scale up our successes. And we can tell more compelling stories about the good we do.”
